CADD Microsystems Recognized by Autodesk's Platinum Club as Outstanding Partner for Fiscal Year 2009

Alexandria, VA – April 1, 2009 – CADD Microsystems, Inc., an Autodesk Premier Solutions Provider in Architecture, Civil Engineering, Federal Government and State & Local Government, was recently inducted by Autodesk into its Platinum Club for 2009. CADD Microsystems was recognized for Top Government Product Sales Growth.

The announcement, which was made at Autodesk's annual conference in Las Vegas, Nevada, recognizes resellers for focusing on customer service and sales performance throughout the year. CADD Microsystems has been the top Autodesk dealer to the federal government since 1991 and is pleased to be recognized by Autodesk once again.

"Being inducted into the Autodesk Platinum Club is a great honor for CADD Microsystems," said Scott Eden, vice president of government sales for CADD Microsystems. "Our focus on helping our government clients streamline their design and construction management process is especially important given the current emphasis on new projects. We strive to help all customers do more with less and get the most value out of their software investment."

"The Platinum Club inductees have performed at a consistently high level, in spite of the economic challenges," said Steve Blum, Autodesk Senior Vice President of Americas sales. "They continue to deliver world-class service and technical expertise to help customers fully experience their ideas virtually through Autodesk solutions."
